BOYS' CLOTHING SALE BREAKS RECORD

Hundreds of Suits, Sizes 5 to 17
Years, Being Sacrificed 40c and 50c on the Dollar.

One of the most opportune purchases in boys' clothing ever known in Washington has been made by Friedlander Bros., well-known Fifth street firm, and are on sale at a big saving in price to the Washington public. There are 400 boys' suits in all and 500 separate pairs of boys' pants. One lot of 100 boys' suits in sizes from 5 to 17 years include both Norfolk and Bulgarian style suits, with knickerbocker pants, values up to $4.00, and are being offered at the unheard-of price of $2.15 a suit. The remainder of the 300 boys' suits in this purchase, also in sizes 5 to 17 years, include unusually fine garments, linen lined and double stitched, and two pairs of trousers go with each suit. This lot, which sold up to $5.50, are to be sold at the ridiculous price of $2.50. All styles will be found in this lot in browns, grays, blues and mixtures.

The 515 pairs of boys' trousers include blues, grays, browns, mixtures and corduroys in sizes 5 to 18 years, and are the usual $1.50 value pants, which were bought at a price enabling them to be sold for 99 cents a pair.

No mother can afford to overlook this opportunity to outfit the boy at less than usual wholesale cost of clothes. No time should be lost getting to this sale, as undoubtedly such values will not last long.—Adv.

Starved Himself To Get Education

Northwestern University Student
Tried to Live on One Meal
Daily—Dead.

CHICAGO, April 18.—"Our neighbors have this in common with heaven—they help only those who are perfectly able to help themselves."

These words, quoted from Francis Thompson, who died in a London garret, George Russell Brooke, a student at the Northwestern University here, wrote in his notebook. They summarized his own experience. Nineteen years old, Brooke died of lobar pneumonia; almost literally he had starved himself to death.

He had economized and saved that he might gain an education. When pneumonia attacked him, he had not strength to rally from it.

Brooke kept his needs to himself. He even returned the money his father a farmer at Lanark, Ill., sent to him. Often he fainted in the classrooms; always he was pale, weak—always silent. He had but to speak and all his needs would have been met.

Only today did it become known that Brooke had existed for months on one scanty meal a day.

Libraries His Theme.

"South American Libraries and Intellectual Life," will be the subject of an illustrated lecture by Dr. Edwin C. Borchard tonight. Dr. Borchard, law librarian of the Library of Congress, will talk under the auspices of the District of Columbia Library Association, in the auditorium of the Public Library at 8 o'clock.
